Data domains

- Internal users, sessions, and roles.
- Provinces, administrative units, territories, roads, and buildings.
- Candidate addresses and official records.
- Citizen corrections and field evidence.
- Publication packs, certificates, signage, reports, and audit.

Data rules

- Sensitive data is not exposed on public routes.
- Internal identifiers remain separate from citizen-facing presentation where necessary.
- Official publication requires review and approval lock.
- Audit preserves action, actor, entity, and operational detail events.
